

Enjoy the nature of Hokkaido with an audio guide!

The trains running along the Senmo Line (between Kushiro and Abashiri), will begin providing tour guide services via an “Audio Guide” using a GPS application.

The Senmo Line is a train line connecting Kushiro and Abashiri. Kushiro Wetland is the largest in Japan, large enough to fit all 23 wards of Tokyo. The 28th national park registered in Japan, this marshland is a habitat for waterfowl and as such it is also registered under the Ramsar Convention, which protects internationally important wetlands. Kitahama Station is the nearest station to the Sea of Okhotsk and known as “the closest station to the ice floes” . Please enjoy special views of Hokkaido from the train window on the Senmo Line!

Period: All year round from April 26, 2019

Section: Kushiro-Abashiri

Details: Download the free application “SkyDesk Media Trek” (provided by Fuji Xerox Co., Ltd.) to your smartphone or tablet. When the application is activated, the GPS finds your location and automatically provides an audio guide (in Japanese, English, Chinese and Korean) on places of interest when you reach those areas.

How to use the application:

Download SkyDesk Media Trek application in advance

Activate the application on the train
Select a book

When you reach the place of interest you have chosen, audio guide starts automatically.

You can download “SkyDesk Media Trek” from the QR code below.

* Communication fee will be charged for downloading the application.

* Please always use earphones when using the audio guide and being considerate to other people.

Places of interest:

◆ Kayanuma Station

While Kayanuma Station is an unstaffed station now, in the past the station staff used to feed the red-crowned cranes, and it became known as the station visited by these precious birds. Even today, red-crowned cranes come here in search of food. If you are lucky, you might be able to see red-crowned cranes, or whooper swans in winter, from the station or from the train window.

◆ Kitahama Station

The vast Sea of Okhotsk sprawls before your eyes right from the platform. In midwinter, you can see a field of ice floes that has drifted all the way from the distant Amur River. Go up to the observation deck next to the station building for a magnificent view of the Sea of Okhotsk and the Shiretoko Mountain Range.
